Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372:

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single inventive concept under PCT 13.1:

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I. Claims 1-24, drawn to a method of manufacture of a composition.

Group II. Claims 25-31, drawn to a method of prevention or treatment of symptoms or pathologies associated with androgen signaling.

The inventions listed in Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1, because under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of each method: Group I is a drawn to a method of manufacture of a composition and the special technical feature of Group II is a drawn to a method of prevention or treatment of symptoms or pathologies associated with androgen signaling.

Thus, Groups I-II are unrelated methods because they use different claimed steps and/or approaches to achieve their different claimed preamble objectives.

For the reasons above, the inventions of Groups I-II do not share a special technical feature.

In addition, this application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The various instantly claimed compounds from claim 4

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species from a various instantly claimed compounds or either a specific mixture of the various instantly claimed compounds of claim 4 to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: claim 4

Art Unit: 1655

The species listed above relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The compounds are of different structures which requires a different search for each structure.

Furthermore, the species are as follows:

The various instantly claimed symptom or pathology from claims 5-7

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species from a various instantly claimed symptom or pathology from claims 5-7 to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 5-7

The species listed above relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The various instantly claimed symptom or pathology are of different disorders which requires a different search for each disorder.

Accordingly, the search for each of the above inventions is not co-extensive particularly with regard to the literature. Further, the reference which would anticipate the invention of one group would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious the other group.
